Austrian fine art photographer Andreas H. Bitesnich to lead new India photography workshop in 2020

- In November 2020, Better Moments will offer a photography workshop in India, visiting e.g. New Delhi, the Taj Mahal and Varanasi
- The main focus will be travel & portrait photography
- The workshop will be lead by Austrian award-winning fine art photographer Andreas H. Bitesnich

Allerød, Denmark – 20 November 2019:

Better Moments welcomes a new photography expert to the team, Austrian fine art photographer Andreas H. Bitesnich, who will lead a workshop in India from 31 October - 8 November 2020.

Andrea H. Bitesnich's work has been represented in group and solo exhibitions worldwide in renowned galleries and museums while he has also published numerous illustrated books. His distinctive style and unmistakable textures can not only be found in his famous nude photographs but also shine through in the national and international advertising campaigns he created. Furthermore, Bitesnich is known for his portraits of well-known contemporary figures such as Anthony Quinn, Jane Goodall, Bob Geldof or Reinhold Messner.

"When I saw Andrea's work from India, I knew that he would be the perfect expert for leading our new India workshop. His photography shows so many facets of India, which is an exciting country for travel and portrait photography. It is often depicted as a colourful country - just take the Holy Festival - but Andrea's shows another side that I find very fascinating and that I hope our guests will find enticing too", says Better Moments founder Christian Nørgaard.

The 9-day workshop will commence in India's bustling capital New Delhi and continue to popular landmarks such as Amber Fort and the iconic Taj Mahal. The group will visit "The Blue City" of Jodhpur and travel through the scenic semi-desert around Jaipur. Via night train, the participants will travel to Varanasi, the holy city on the river Ganges, to photograph the magical ceremonies taking place on the river banks, before flying back to Delhi.

During the workshop, Andreas H. Bitesnich will deliver educational and inspiring seminars and give personal guidance on location. Having been to India multiple times, Andreas is well acquainted with the area and can give valuable advice on how to best capture the local scenery and people.

The Better Moments India workshop will take place 31 October - 8 November 2020. More information on www.better-moments.com/india

In the coming weeks, Better Moments will announce more photography workshops for 2020.

About Better Moments

Better Moments was founded in 2011 by Christian Nørgaard and Philip Boissevain, two experienced veterans of the international professional photography industry. By now, Better Moments has become a leading photo workshop platform organizing high-end workshops for passionate photo enthusiasts worldwide as well as offering private PhotoWalks in cities like Copenhagen, Paris or Berlin. The company's workshops create unique opportunities for our guests to learn from the world's best photographers within their fields, such as Steve McCurry, Michael Nichols or Sisse Brimberg as well as working with high end equipment from partners like Phase One or Hasselblad. Workshop participants learn to refine their personal style and sharpen their technical skills in stunning, remote and highly scenic locations, for instance Bhutan, Namibia or Iceland. We want our guests to explore their passion and excitement for photography – and to enjoy great moments in life.
